

Johannah LANTHEAUME was enrolled in the Master's Degree in Translation and Interpretation program in the academic year 2017-2018 at Université Lumière Lyon 2 (Lyon, France) and she successfully completed her Master's Degree Cum Laude (in the foreign language combination English-Mandarin Chinese).

Ms. LANTHEAUME followed my classes in the following subjects: lexicography, corpus linguistics and natural language processing. In these subjects as well as in other courses, her results were far better than average and placed her in the top half of the students who graduated in the last academic year.

Ms. LANTHEAUME has a very good command of French (her native language) and of English. She is also a person who is endowed with excellent relational skills and with whom it is very easy to work.

I had the pleasure to sit on the jury for the defense of her internship report, for which she got a very good grade, and in light of the fact that her internship as a translator was clearly a success, I would highly recommend her for any position that involves translation or interpreting using the French-English language pair.

Lyon, October 9th 2018

François MANIEZ

Pr. François MANIEZ
Former head (2007-2017) of the Research Center in Terminology and Translation (CRTT, EA 4162)
Head of the Master's Degree in Translation and Interpretation program
Director of the Applied Linguistics and Translation program (Master's Degree in Translation and Interpretation)
Director of the doctoratal studies LTMT program (Multilingual Lexicology and Terminology & Translation)
Faculté des Langues, Université Lumière Lyon 2
Maison Internationale des Langues et Cultures (MILC), bureau 503
35 rue Raulin, 69007 LYON
francois.maniez@univ-lyon2.fr